Message

I am glad to know that Kairali Charitable Foundation would be publishing 'Pravasirekha' a directory of Pune Malayalees, which would be released on 1st November 2013.

Indeed a laudable initiative on the part of Kairali Charitable Foundation, which I believe would foster better relationship between members of the Malayalee community in Pune. Efforts like this would take the foundation a long way in meeting the aspirations of Malayalees in the region and also to serve as a proud symbol among Malayalees living outside Kerala.

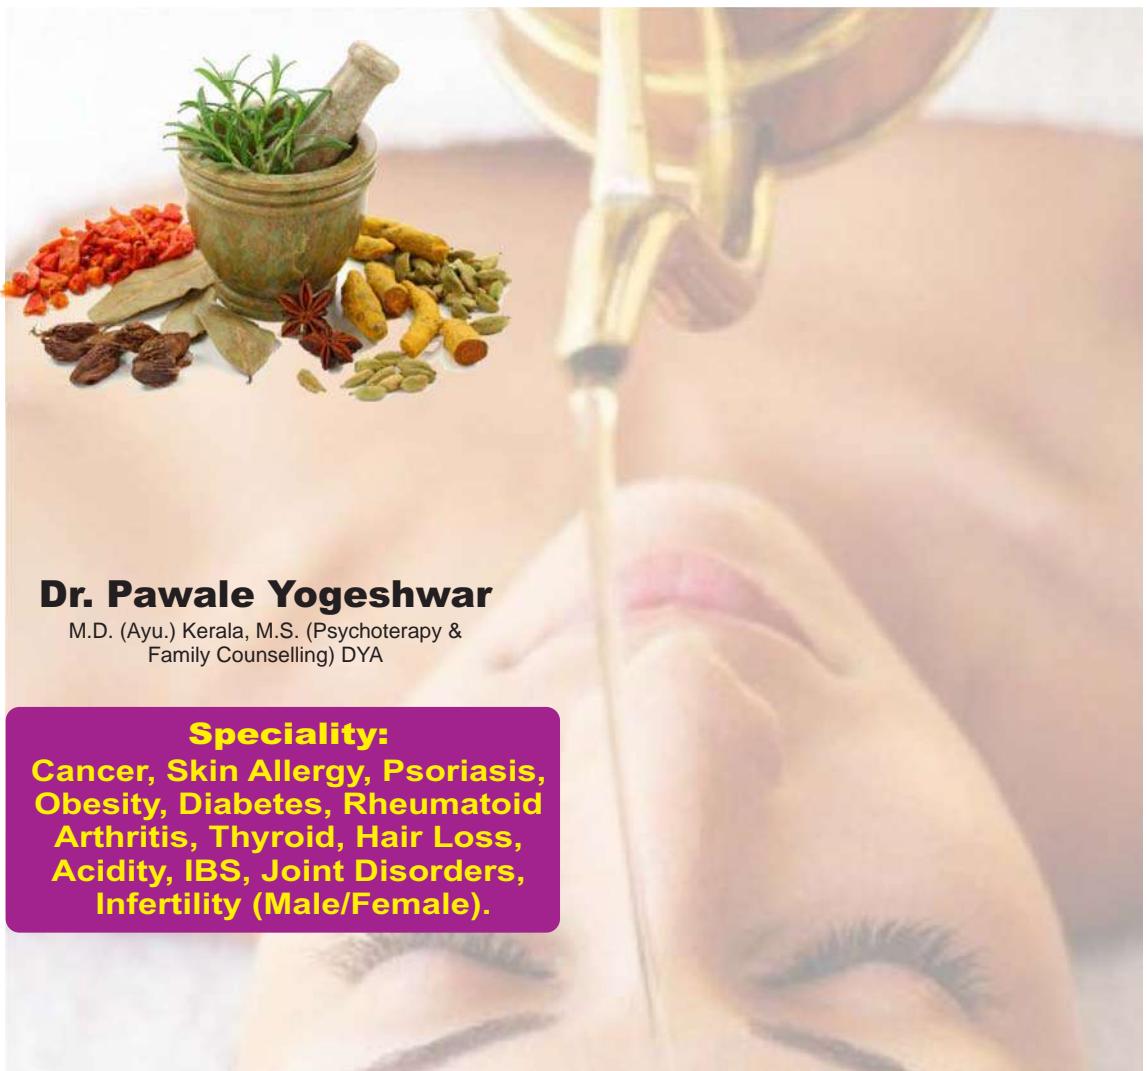

Wishing all success.

MESSAGE

I have immense pleasure to hear that the Kairali Charitable foundation, Pune is releasing Pravasi Rekha Directory on the Kerala Piravi day. I should appreciate the foundation for its yeoman service extended to the four lakh Malayalees in Pune. I am sure the Directory will build and strengthen the personal relationship within the Malayalee community which will have all the information regarding Malayalee families living in Pune. I also extend my heartfelt appreciation for the creation of a welfare fund for humanitarian purpose. My best wishes for all Malayalees in Pune.

KAIRALI: SERVING THE NEEDY

It is almost 12 years that Kairali Charitable Trust, Pune came into existence after carefully evaluating the problems that a Malayalee Expatriate living in India but outside Kerala encountered in their day-to-day life. The essence of Kairali's existence is to "Serve the needy" with uncompromising sincerity and honesty without any strings attached. Needless to mention that Kairali always believes in action and not in sweet talks of pretended compassion .Social service is nothing but selfless dedication to mankind and that is what Kairali believes .

In the year 2001,Kairali Charitable Trust was established at Pune-Hadapsar by a team of 21 dedicated Malayalee Social Volunteers by launching the service of an Ambulance; the first and foremost gift by a Malayalee group to all the expatriates. Severe criticisms followed questioning its relevance, effectiveness and utility as plenty of Ambulance Services were available in and around Pune.The answer lies in the fact that Malayalees everywhere are well known for their contribution in Cultural and Social upliftment and never lacked in Charitable work .

It is gratifying that during last many years of service activity , we have consoled and helped many desperate Malayalees who became victims of unexpected tragedies.

In December-2012, 35 people died in a bus accident at Bhandra about 400 kms away from Pune including Mr. Gopalakrishnan a keralite .It was Kairali's 5-days relentless efforts by which his body was identified, his relatives were brought from his native place and the funeral was arranged at Pune.This is one among the many efforts in which Kairali has been effectively active besides road accidents, suicide cases ,family problems, domestic violence ,medical aid for malayalee destitutes etc.

Kairali was the first to render help to the victims of frequent train lootings and lead the nurses agitation in various hospitals. With the timely and tactic intervention of Kairali a foreign employment racket was detected and monetary loss to many Malayalees was averted- a glaring case of Malayali cheating Malayali.The list goes endless and all these were possible only because of the grass root level support Kairali enjoys so far.

Our next target is to provide Insurance Coverage to all Malayalees-a scheme introduced by the Kerala Government and publish an exclusive Directory of migrant Malayalees living in Pune which will be of great help in an unexpected emergency .

Kairali sincerely acknowledge with gratitude the timely help and guidance received from all friends and look forward to your continued support in future also.

Your's truly,

M. V. Parameswaran

Kairali Charitable Foundation

A hope for the distressed

Kairali Charitable Foundation(KCF) has been rendering Yeoman services to the migrant Malayalee Population of Pune and the surrounding areas since the last 12 years. Needless to say, KCF has earned a distinctly trustworthy place of honour among the plethora of Malayalee Organisations in Pune by its sheer dedication to alleviate the sufferings and pain of the less fortunate among the migrant Malayalees who have left their kith and kin in search of a living in this far off place. KCF has tried its best to give a helping hand to many in distress thereby wiping out the tears from many eyes . By recognising and applauding the success of the migrant children in the fields of cultural, social, educational and scientific fields , KCF has been able to see tears of joy in the eyes of the proud parents and relatives of such talented children. The migrant Malayalee population in and around Pune has been a proud witness to these great achievements of the KCF. Even the local population has appreciated the sense of dedication of the team led by Mr Parameswaran, the founder Chairman of the KCF.

KCF has been rendering great help to the families whose dear ones passed way leaving them with no one to look for.KCF was always willing and ready to help those need of medical help due to sickness or injury irrespective of the religion, caste or region.

KCF is always willing to give a helping hand to the lonely , to console the suffering.. The innocent Malayalee living in a far off place is many a time framed for some offence by the over enthusiastic Police. KCF came running to such people and saw to it that justice was done to those and freed from the clutches of the Police.

Instances are many when the team led by Mr Parameswaran successfully acted as a counsellor and solved many family disputes which could have wrecked many lives. Protection of the minorities, rehabilitation of the weak and helpless , ,at times even demanding the right action from the authorities, has earned the gratitude of the migrant Malayalees towards KCF and its team of dedicated workers.

In this era of falling Values, when tears of empathy is a rare sight, KCF has been working hard to build up a new society based on the great values of our great nation.....In its march to build a new society based on mutual trust and cooperation ,KCF has crossed many a Milestone is its journey of 12 long years which started in 2001 at Hadapsar near Pune. It is needless to add that KCF can rightly claim a sense of Pride and satisfaction from the achievements of the last 12 years.

Any migrant Malayalee in distress can rest assured that a phone call to KCF can give him support and succour in the shortest possible time. It is this dedicated sense of action that distinguishes KCF from other organistaions. Since KCF started functioning in 2001 with the active support of service minded migrant Malayalees , KCF had achievd many feats- to name a few.

The provision of emergency Ambulance Service for the poor.

Felicitating the members of the Kerala Police when they visited Pune.

Observance of Maharashtra Police day every year.

Felicitating deserving Police constables and officers.

Felicitating Successful Children who have achieved academic or extra Curricular distinction

Helping the Malayalee

The Nurses who were exploited by the Commercial Hospital Managements.

Raising Funds to help the poor suffering from serious diseases, by even giving advertisements in the local news papers.

who was seriously injured when a mentality deranged Mr Mane drove the MSRTC bus on the busy streets of Pune killing many people, was highly appreciated by all .The Kerala Government under the leadership of CM Mr Oommen Chandy sanctioned him a good amount as compensation.

The story of Mr Mani, a migrant Malayalee from Chalakkudy who was lying unconscious in front a temple is pathetic. Even his own children refused to take care of him,.It was left to Parameswaran and KCF to look after him and even arrange for his last rites. Cases are many when KCF came to help the non suspecting boys and girls who come to Pune in search of higher education and then falling a prey to the education agents who charge huge sums and then disappear in thin air. KCF has brought such education sharks under the Police scanner and recovered such amounts.In the year 2011, a team of young men and women came to Chandan Nagar being assured of specialised training and found themselves cheated .KCF came to their rescue and saw to itthat they got their amount back and were sent back to Kerala.

KCF has also forced the Police authorities to take strict action against the highway robbers who used to attack the Trucks carrying goods from Kerala and the south Indian states.

KCF has been always in the forefront to promote the culture and arts of Kerala. KCF took steps to see that the popular Malayalam drama actor Vilasini was given a suitable pension to lead a peaceful retired life.In 2012 a special programme was arranged with the help of fledgling cine artists to raise the necessary funds.

In addition to felicitating the meritorious children for their academic achievements, KCF has always tried to help the poor children to complete their education even by adopting them

KCF believes that the migrant Malayalee community must identify itself with the local population and is in the forefront of all cultural activities to bring more understanding and cooperation between the Malayalees and the Maharashtra. In fact KCF encourages inter linguistic marriages between Malayalee boys/girls with other communities to help National Integration.

The felicitation of the Popular Malayalam Cine actress Sukumari in 2012 was another feather in the cap of KCF.Malayalees of Pune had the unique distinction of hosting the last PUBLIC PROGRAMME OF Sukumari and this will be remembered by the Pune Malayalees for years to come.

KCF is continuing its march to solve the many problems faced by the migrant Malayalees in Pune .In doing so KCF is also doing its best to bring a sense of unity among the migrant Malayalees by arranging many cultural and social events. Vadhyostavam 2013 is one giant step in that long march.

God's own country

Keralam, the land of kera or coconut, is a never-ending array of coconut palms...sun blanched beaches...kettuvallams over enchanting backwaters... magical monsoon showers...silent valleys vibrant with flora and fauna...misty mountains of the Western Ghats...fragrance of spices...evenings reverberating with the rhythm of a thousand artforms...fairs and festivals... Origin of Kerala has been linked to a legend dating back to Satya Yug. According to this legend, Kerala rose up from the sea when Lord Parasurama threw his axe into it and the sea receded to bring up this narrow strip of land from underneath. Lord Parasurama, believed to be the sixth avatar of Lord Mahavishnu, threw his axe from Gokarnam southward across the ocean in rage and in repentance for his actions of killing Kshatriyas. The land of Kerala emerged from the waters of the Arabian Sea with the blessing of Varuna-the God of Oceans and Bhumidevi- the Goddess of Earth. The sobriquet "God's own Country" thus bestows itself on Kerala.

Kerala lies along the coastline, to the extreme south west of the Indian peninsula, flanked by the Arabian Sea on the west and the mountains of the Western Ghats on the east. This land of Parasurama stretches north-south along a coastline of 580 kms with a varying width of 35 to 120 kms. Cascading delicately down the hills to the coasts covered by verdant coconut groves, the topography and physical characteristics change distinctly from east to west. The nature of the terrain and its physical features, divides an east west cross section of the state into three distinct regions- hills and valleys, midland and plains and the coastal region. Located between north latitudes 8018' and 12048' and east longitudes 74052' and 72022', this land of eternal beauty encompasses 1.18 per cent of the country.

The Western Ghats, bordering the eastern boundary of the State, form an almost continuous mountain wall, except near Palakkad where there is a natural mountain pass known as the Palakkad Gap. The average elevation of the Ghats is about 1500 meters above sea level, occasionally soaring to peaks of 2000 to 2500 m. From the Ghats, the land slopes to the west on to the plains, into an unbroken coastline.

The strip of hills and valleys on the eastern edge, close to the Ghats, comprises of steep mountains and deep valleys, covered with dense forests. Almost all the rivers of the state originate here. There are 44 rivers in the state, of which 41 originate from the Western Ghats and flow towards west into the Arabian sea. Only three tributaries of the river Cauvery originate in Kerala and flow east into the neighbouring States. These rivers and streams flowing down from the Western Ghats either empty themselves in to the backwaters in the coastal area or directly into the Arabian Sea. As the Western Ghats are nowhere more than 120 kms from the sea, all these rivers are comparatively short.

In the Midland Plains of central region, the hills are not very steep and the valleys are wide. The valleys have been developed as paddy fields and the elevated lands and hill slopes are converted into estates of rubber, fruit trees and other cash crops like pepper , arecanut and tapioca. Tea and coffee estates have cropped up in the high ranges during the last two centuries.

The Coastal Belt strip is comparatively plain. Extensive paddy fields, thick groves of coconut trees and picturesque backwaters, interconnected with canals and rivers, are the features of this region. No wonder, Alappuzha an old sea port town of this region is known as the 'Venice of the East'. In the southern and northern parts of the state, the coastal belt also has some small hillocks.

The backwaters are a peculiar feature of the state. Canals link the lakes and backwaters to facilitate an uninterrupted inland water navigation system from Thiruvananthapuram to Vadakara, a distance of 450 kms. The Vembanad lake stretching from Alappuzha to Kochi is the biggest water body in the state and is over 200 sq.kms. in area. Kuttanad in Alappuzha district alone has more than 20 per cent of India's total length of waterways.

The important rivers from north to south are; Valapattanam river (110 kms.), Chaliar (69 kms.), Kadalandipuzha (130 kms.), Bharathapuzha (209 kms.), Chalakudy river (130 kms.), Periyar (244 kms), Pamba (176 kms), Achancoil (128 kms.) and Kalladayar (121 kms.). Other than these, there are 35 more small rivers and rivulets flowing down from the Ghats. Most of these rivers are navigable up to the midland region, in country crafts.

Not too far away from the hustle and bustle of glitzy Mumbai is Pune, the cultural hub of Maharashtra. Known for his pleasant climate and old world charm, Pune is nevertheless a vibrant modern city very much in pace with Indian's growing economy. In fact, the city is distinctly divided in to the older half – where localites are named after the days of the week and the modern half –which is modern, bustling, spacious cantonment.

Popularly known as the 'Oxford of the East', Pune has many internationally renowned educational institutions such as the Film and Television Institute of India, Armed Forces Medical College, National Defence Academy and Symbiosis Educational Society. Besides the infamous Osho Commune International. Pune is also home to leading software and IT companies. Apart from its rich culture and heritage, the real charm of Pune is in the hills, caves and forts surrounding it-so take your pick!

Pune 'Oxford of the East'

HISTORY

Down the centuries, Pune has been ruled by several dynasties. The earliest evidence found(copper plates of 758 AD and of 768 AD) reveals that the Rashtrakootas ruled this region then. At that time, Pune was referred to as Punaka Vishaya and Punya Vishaya. Copper plates of 960 AD and 963 AD refer to it as Punaka Wadi and Punaka Desha. Here Vishaya means region. Later on, the city has been mentioned as Kasabe Pune. The Pune Gazetteer explains the term Pune as Punya – a holy place. In Hindu tradition, a confluence(sangama) of two river is sacred. Hence, this city, where there is a confluence of two rivers, is Punyanagari. After the Rashtrakootas, Pune was ruled by the Yadava dynasty. After the fall of this dynasty, it came under Muslim dominace till the middle of seventeenth century. For many years, Pune was the pulse of Maratha land and has given India some of its most memorable personalities. Shivaji, the Maratha king who defined Mughal Emperor Aurangazeb, was brought up in Pune. The city also served as the headquarters of the mighty Maratha Empire under the Peshwas, until its annexation in 1818 by the British East India Company, after which it continued as the regional capital during the monsoon, when Bombay becomes unbearable. Pune's other famous son was the great freedom fighter lokamanya Bal Gangadhar Tilak. Pune today is very much a modern city with commuters who dash to work to Mumbai every morning. But the city still retains its quaint old values and traditions. The slow and easy pace of life provides much needed relief from the hectic pace of the sate capital.

GEOGRAPHY

The historic city of Pune situated at an altitude of 570m on the Sahyadri Hills on western Maharashtra. Popularly known as the 'Queen of Deccan', it is spread over an area of 138.76 sq km and has a population of 15.6 lakh. Its pleasant climate and proximity to the state capital Mumbai has made Pune the second most important city in Maharashtra, a favourite and regular holiday resort, not only with the inhabitants of the financial capital of India, but with people all over the country. Pune city is located the western margin of the Deccan plateau. It lies between 18 degrees 32 minutes north latitude and 73 degrees 51 minutes east longitude. It has an altitude of 559 m above sea level. The city stands at the confluence of Mula and Mutha rivers, which are the tributaries of Bhima. The singhagad-Katraj- Dive Ghats Range forms the southern boundary of the urban area. The highest point of the city is Vetal Hill(800 m or 2,625 ft above sea level), whereas the highest point just outside the city is the Sinhagad Fort(1,300 m or 4,265 ft above sea level). The city is surrounded by hills from three sides, which make the geographical conditions more pleasant. It is located 160 km east of Mumbai. Pune city spans over an area of 146 sq km with around 40 percent of area under greenery. Pune district lies in the seismically active zone of Koyna Region, which is about 100km south of the city. Pune has experienced some moderate intensity and many low intensity earthquakes.

CLIMATE

As Pune stands on the leeward side of the western Ghats on an altitude of 559 m(1,863 ft), the temperatures are pretty moderate. But the city of Pune does have its share of uncertainties in different seasons.

Summer

Summers here begins from early March to July. Though not as hot as the northern parts of India, it is very sunny with dry heat during the day, while early mornings are pleasant and evenings, after six, are cool and breezy. Bright summery cloths are an obvious suggestion with sunglasses for driving. The temperature ranges from 38 degree celcius to 20 degree celcius.

Monsoon

Being on the leeward side of the ghats, Pune has good three months of rains from July-August to October. Clear skies in the mornings are not to be gone by as it rains in the evenings. Umbrellas and raincoats come handy in the monsoon season. While driving, beware of potholes and use a minimum of two pairs of shoes as drying takes about 2-3 days. Temperatures range from 18-19 degree celcius to 30 degree celcius.

Winter

From November to January, Pune has its winter season. Though light woolens are fine during the day, early mornings, evenings and night times require more clothing as the temperature could dip as low as 8 degree celcius.

Best Time to Visit

Late January to March are the most pleasant months in Pune. The sun is bright and warm and temperatures are in the moderate zone. Overall, the climate and temperature does not go to extremes and humidity is negligible here. During any time of the year, Pune is perfect for morning and evening walks.

AGA KHAN PALACE

One of the most magnificent monuments of pune, situated in the yerawada area, the palace dates back to the year 1892 & was constructed under the patronage of Sultan Mohammed Shab, Aga Khan III. Sultan Mohammed Shab ordered the construction of this palace, in orderd to provide employment to drought-bit people. Today, the palace houses the samadhis of Kasturba Gandhi (wife of Mahatma Gandhi) & Mahadev Desai(a long time aide of Mahatma Gandhi). Even the ashes of Mahatma Gandhi have been interred at Aga Khan Palace. The palace is closely associated with Mahatma Gandhi & is often known by the name of Gandhi National Memorial. It serves as the venue of exibitions, depicting the life and career of Mahatma Gandhi, on a regular basis.

Aga Khan Palace was also one of the shooting locales of the famous movie “Gandhi”, based on the life of Bapu. A museum located inside the premises of the palace has a rich & very wide colletion of pictures, which represent almost each & every significant happening in the life of Mahatma Gandhi. One can also see a number of items displayed here, which were used by when he was alive. These include his utensils, cloths, Mala, slippers, etc.

SHANIWAR WADA

Situated in Shaniwar Peth. Near the railway station of pune, it is a fort, whose foundation was laid down by Peshwa Baji Rao in the year 1792-30. It took two years to complete the fort and latter many additions were also made to it by the successors of Baji Rao. The amazing Architecture of the fort speaks volumes about the competence of the pehwas in the field of town planning. The complex of shaniwar wada comprises fountains, courtyards, blooming, gardens, offices, audience halls and residential quarters. A fire engulfed the fort in 1827 & lasted for approximately 15 days. The devastating fire led to the destruction of the beauty of the palace, along with all of its artifacts. All one can see now is the huge gate of the fort, with its outer stonewalls, bastions and small gates, the main gate is known as dilli Darwaja(Delhi Gate), while the others gates are known as mastani or Alibahadur Darwaja and Narayan Darwaja. However, Shaniwarwada Fort still counts amongst the major attractions of Pune. The city center inside Shaniwar Wada serves as a reflection of how the fort originally looked like, before the fire broke out.

On the walls of the fort, one can see paintings depicting scenes from the epics Ramayana & Mahabharata. The sixteen petal, lotus shaped fountain standing inside Shaniwar Wada stands as a proof of exquisite craftsmanship of those times. A light & sound show is also held here every day, between 7:15pm & 8:10pm in Marathi, and between 8:15pm & 9:10 pm in English.

The palace has an impressive collection of Shivaji & Jijabai's pictorial representations, of which one shows young Shivaji ploughing land with a golden plough and Jijabai and Guru Dadoji Kondadev looking at him. The other major attraction of the Lal Mahal include four umbrellas on its terrace and a statue of Jijabai (Wife of Shivaji). There is also

Laxmi Road

In many ways, this road, starting from Lakadi Bridge in the west to the Quarter Gate area in pune cantonment, is the typical Indian bazaar. Shope dealing in textiles, electronics goods, jewellery, cosmetics, kitchen ware, toys, gift items and sweets and savouries, line this road which is in all possibility the busiest street in the city. Hawkers displaying their wares on the pavements contributes to the cluttered look of the narrow street. City buses thunder past, competing for road space with four wheelers, two wheelers, cycles, pedestrians and cows. But while puneites will grumble occasionally about the overcrowded road, they wouldn't exchange it for anything else. It is the best place in shop in Pune, but even if you don't have any serious shopping in mind, strolling through Laxmi Road is an enjoyable way to spend an evening.

beautiful garden inside the palace complex, known as Jijamata Garden. Now the garden has been converted into a children's garden & is very popular among kids as well as senior citizens.

SUJATHA R. NAIR

Mrs. Sujatha R Nair is one of the most prominent female voices of Pune. Her works are devoted to women's empowerment and solving their day to day life problems. To supplement her efforts she has founded the Kerala Women's Association (Pune). She is the president of this Trust since 1998. Through the association her contribution and cooperation towards the social causes of Pune Malayalees are remarkable. The strength of women participating in Malayalees' movements for solving railway problems etc. have increased manifold only because of the inspiring example carved out by Sujatha. She is also keen and active in promoting arts and culture. She has and always will have a key role in the social circles of Pune Malayalees.

P N V Krishnan

Having spent more than 50 years in the city of Pune, PNV Krishnan ,popularly known as Swamy among the Malayalees- is a very cosmopolitan personality. He is at ease with his Maharshtrian friends in the social, educational and poetical field and also with his brethren from Kerala and Tamil Nadu. Though born in a middle class Tamil Brahmin family at Parlikad, a small village in Thrissur dist, Swamy had his school education in the village primary school in Malayalam. The family then migrated to his maternal grandfather's place at Tripunithura, the capital city of old Cochin state. Swamy was attracted to the leftist movement in his school days and he had the good fortune of listening to the great Pandit Nehru at the Maharaja's college ground, Kochi,. After successfully completing SSLC , securing the highest marks ever in the history of his school till that date. Swamy came to Poona to pursue higher education. Swamy's father Late P K Narayana Iyer was already Pune running a small tyre retreading business. Swamy completed his B E degree in Mechanical engineering from the Govt College of engineering in 1967 in First Class with distinction. He joined his father's business and took it to greater heights in a span of less than 10 years. Swamy was selected by the Industries department for post graduate diploma in Management by the Govt of the Netherlands .After returning from Europe Swamy was instrumental in developing quick release couplings for the hydraulic systems, a very rare item in those days. He then diversified into the rubber industry and commanded the tread rubber market in Maharashtra for many years. But the unethical practices followed by the traders forced him to close down the unit. With a never say die attitude he joined the law college and came out successfully with the LL B degree. He even passed the newly introduced Bar Council examination and enrolled as a member of the Maharashtra Bar council. Swamy has been actively associated with the educational cultural, medical and social activities of this great city for the last 40 years. He was the president of the SV Union, Somawar Peth and during his tenure he was instrumental in building the new Junior college building which was inaugurated by the ex PM Shri Chandra Sekhar. He also introduced the evening B Com course at the S V Union and also introduced the IT subject at the Junior college.

Swamy is well known for running the CT scan centre at Pune for the last 20 years to help the poor patients. Thousands of poor patients have taken advantage of the free CT scan facility offered by the CT scan centre rub the Lions club.

Swamy was also the secretary of the Kerala Peoples Education society for many years. He was ousted from the society when tried to be whistle blower..

He as also the president of the Shanmukanda Sabha,. He was also the Treasurer of the Pune Janata Dal during VPSingh days.

Currently he is in charge of South India of the Socialist Party of India, under the President ship of Shri Bhai Vaidya.

Swamy is hapPily married to Ms Rajeshwari. He has two children ,daughter Uma and son Mahesh.' Uma is married to Dr Karthik and happily settled in USA.

Mahesh is an attorney in a leading law firm in New York.

'Swamy now lives in Pune and USA on and off.

S R Nair

Born on the 11th Sept 1946 in the small village of Mannar near Alleppey, the Venice of the East..He had inherited a taste for classical music from his father Shri Damodaran Master, who was an expert in Carnatic Music. SR also inherited the discipline in life from his beloved mother Smt Sarojini Teacher, who was a school teacher.

He had his schooling and college education in Kerala and as was common in those days he landed in the dream city of Bombay(as it was called then) in search of a fortune. As luck would have it he was employed in the then popular Columbia Films as tan trainee manager and was recognised as an efficient and honest officer. In keeping with the trend he also migrated to the gulf and made his millions.

Being a patriotic Indian, he gave up luring offers from the west and landed in the holy city of Pune to build his empire,

He was successful to build a reputed business of supplying and installing air conditioners, small and big, in and around Pune. Many of the land mark buildings in Pune have the air conditioning systems installed by him. In keeping with the time he moved on to become the best Franchisee of BSNL for their land and mobile and even the latest 2G,3G etc.

Being a born artist and social worker he could not keep away from serving the people of Pune., He is closely associated with the Lions Clubs in Puine, Woreld Malayalee Coucil, Pune Sangeeta Sabha etc. Being a benevolent person, Shri Nair has helped many persons with employment and career guidance. His better half Smt Rajalkshmy is a school teacher and their only child is happily married.,
